ESI's New Location Brings People Together

It's been a long time in coming, but Environmental Solutions, Inc. (ESI) has now relocated to a new office off Pump and Patterson in Richmond, Virginia. "I am so excited by the opportunities now afforded to ESI made possible by this move," said Brenda Robinson, president of ESI. "Not only does it allow us to have all of our facilities and personnel in one location, but it enables ESI to expand as we continue to grow. Plus, the addition of our 20+ seat training facility means that we will be able to offer an expansive lineup of valuable, cost-effective, environmentally related training courses to businesses and organizations, partners and client."

Training courses already planned include both 2-day and 1-day Environmental Management Systems (EMS) courses, Spill Prevention Control and Countermeasures (SPCC) / Storm Water Course overview, Resource Conservation Recovery Act (RCRA), US Department of Transportation (DOT), Air Title V, International Air Transport Association (IATA), International Maritime Dangerous Goods (IMDG) Code, Wetlands, Environmental Legalities, Release Reporting under Environmental Laws, Occupational Health and Safety Act (OSHA) Overview, and Enforcement and Liabilities of Environmental Law.

Not only is ESI concerned about the "environmental health" of businesses and organizations, the new facility even has an exercise area that caters to its employees' physical health, as well. "We wanted to let employees know how much we care about their overall well-being. Since we had additional space, it just seemed natural to enable them to get a good physical workout, while getting a great mental workout doing their jobs throughout the day," stated Ms. Robinson. ESI's new facility will also offer oil painting classes taught by Ms. Robinson's mother, acclaimed artist, Irene Perry, later this summer.
